

CAL STATE LONG BEACH PROGRESS ON GI 2025 INITIATIVE

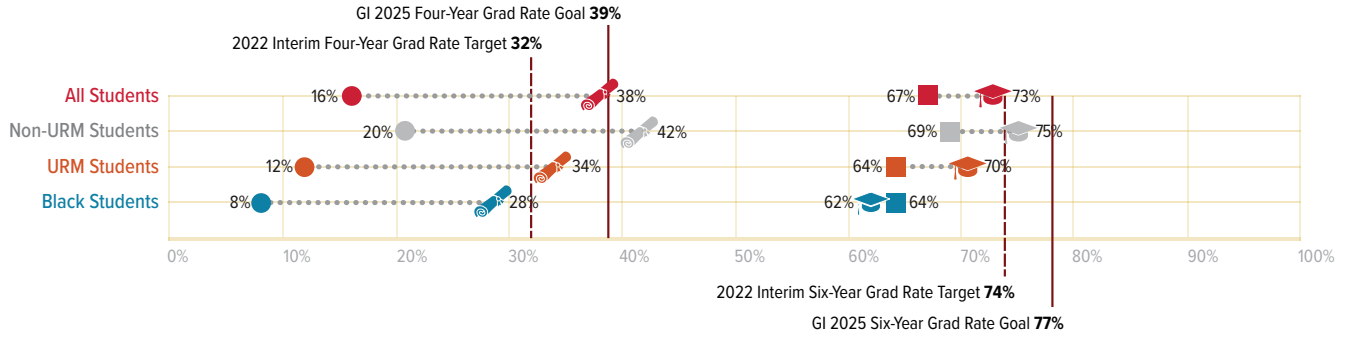

At Cal State Long Beach, the four-year graduation rate for all first-time students has more than doubled increasing from 16% to 38% and the six-year graduation rate has increased from 67% to 73% since 2015. Gaps persist between non-URM students and URM students, whose graduation rates are eight points lower after four years and five points lower after six. The gaps are larger when comparing Black students to non-URM students at 14 points after four years and 13 points after six.

For transfer students, the two-year graduation rate has increased from 37% to 44% and the four-year graduation rate from 81% to 85%. There is no gap between URM and non-URM students, and Black transfer students have a two-year graduation rate that is three points higher than non-URM students although their four-year rate is lower by five points.

Long Beach has set three of its campuswide goals for GI 2025 at rates above the systemwide goal, with the fourth only being one point lower than the systems. The campus is currently on track to reach one of their own GI 2025 goals, and all of the systemwide goals.
